The Texas Municipal Courts Education Center
2012 One-Day Clinic Series

Specialty and Problem-Solving Courts

May 30, 2012 • 10:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m. at the TMCEC office in Austin

Problem-solving courts focus on resolving the underlying chronic anti-social behaviors of defendants. The most common type of problem-solving court is the drug court, but many Texas cities are experimenting with specialty dockets to address certain defendants or types of cases. From truancy courts to animal courts, from homeless courts to community courts, this clinic will look at the legal authority for cities to implement these specialty or problem-solving courts. Participants will also hear from judges and clerks who work in these successful specialty courts to get ideas to take back to their cities.

Funded by a grant from the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals
